Trusted by leading Data Centre providers, global enterprise and government organisations who require the highest level of security processes, we understand the importance of flexible and secure storage solutions.

Whether equipment is required to be stored ahead of an installation, or between phases of a migration, it is crucial that our site is proactively monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

To ensure the highest level of protection, we partner with the largest security and video transmission organisation in the UK and have invested significantly in anti-theft devices and external police response systems.
